Exchange students may also take selected courses offered within CEMS Master in International Management (only electives) and courses in German of the German-Polish Academic Forum. Those students who speak Polish may attend all courses offered at SGH at the given level.

Students may only take courses from the level they are registered/nominated at.

Master students are not allowed to take bachelor-level courses. Bachelor students (pursuing a 3-year-long bachelor's degree) are not allowed to take master-level courses.

An exception to this rule applies to students pursuing a 4-year bachelor program and only when on exchange at SGH during their last year of studies. In such a case bachelor students are allowed to register for master-level courses (letter of support from home university required).

Courses:

Teaching programs and study plans for bachelor's and master's levels are available in USOSweb

Schedules with courses offered in a given semester are published on the websites of the respective Dean's Office:

- Undergraduate
- Graduate

Academic / Experience Requirements:

Selected courses may require prerequisites indicated in the course outlines in USOSweb – <https://usosweb.sgh.waw.pl/kontroler.php?action=katalog2/przedmioty/index>

Full-time Workload:

To validate a semester, an exchange student should pass 30 ECTS credits, but the workload depends on the home school's requirements.

One full course (30 contact hours) equals 3 ECTS credits. Free movers must take at least 21 ECTS in courses.

Learning Expectations:

The format of courses varies. Mostly, these are a combination of lectures and tutorials with case analysis. Participation and attendance are evaluated based on the professor's perception. The maximum number of students admitted to a course is between 30 and 40, and there is a higher limit for lectures and core major courses.

Grading:

The grades are from 2.0 (Fail) to 5.0 (Very Good).

3.0 is a minimum Pass, and 4.0 is a good, average grade. Transcripts are issued after the semester and contain information about the grading system (ECTS Grading Table). They are then sent to the partner schools.

The grading scale is available at the bottom of this document.

Exams:

Exams are usually held at the end of the course or during exam session periods. Most exams are written; several courses include group projects and individual essays instead of formal written exams.

- ▶ Business Administration
- ▶ Economic Analysis
